

CHÂTEAU DE BEAULIEU

CHRISTOPHE DUFOSSÉ

FRENCH DATA PROTECTION LAW AND GDPR

Usage rights

Users of the <https://www.lechateaudebeaulieu.fr> site may not reproduce and/or use the brands and logos featured on the site, and may not change, copy, translate, reproduce, sell, publish, use and broadcast in a digital or any other format, all or part of the information, texts, photographs, images, videos and data on the site, which are covered by the intellectual property rules (article L112-1). All persons involved in a violation of these rules will be subject to the penal and civil penalties laid out by law.

<https://www.lechateaudebeaulieu.fr> website invites users to consult its content and information on a strictly private, non-collective basis. This right extends to the right to print one or several pages and/or to store them on one's computer (or another digital device such as a mobile phone or tablet) exclusively for one's own personal use.

Any placing of this content on a network, any broadcasting of it, any use of it in a professional or commercial context, or any commercial sharing of it with a third party, in any form whatsoever, is strictly forbidden except by prior agreement with the owners Delphine & Christophe Dufossé.

Links and backlinks

Le Château de Beaulieu has no way of controlling sites connected to its websites by hyperlinks, nor is it responsible for or able to guarantee the availability of such sites and external sources.

Le Château de Beaulieu takes no responsibility for the content of sites it links to. It cannot be held responsible for any loss or injury, of whatever kind, that results from the content of these sites and external sources, particularly the information, products or services that they offer, or of any use made from these elements. The risks linked with this use are fully incumbent on the internet user, who must follow the sites' rules. Users, subscribers and visitors of internet sites cannot place a hyperlink connecting to <https://www.lechateaudebeaulieu.fr> without its express permission, in advance. If a user or visitor wishes to place a hyperlink to the <https://www.lechateaudebeaulieu.fr> site, they must send a request, in advance, to le Château de Beaulieu.

Privacy policy

In line with the French data protection law and with GDPR, le Château de Beaulieu collects visitors' personal data on the basis of consent they give by using the sites (cookies) as well as at the time of their registration as a visitor, customer, expert.

For more information, the visitor should email the GDPR referee at contact@lechateaudebeaulieu.com

Data gathered when you register on the site

<https://www.lechateaudebeaulieu.fr>:

Le Château de Beaulieu collects personal data in order to be able to establish and sustain the quality of its relationship with visitors. This data also enables the efficient management of the website and of its user accounts.

Your email address is necessary so that we can send you emails for our monthly newsletter. The information collected here is recorded in a computerized file by the Château de Beaulieu sales department. They are kept until the user unsubscribes and are intended to share the Château's news with you (unsubscribe link).

In accordance with the French data protection law and with GDPR, you can exercise your right of access to data concerning you and have them rectified by contacting: contact@lechateaudebeaulieu.com

SAS Château de Beaulieu
1098 rue de Lillers - 62350 BUSNES
Tél : +33.3.21.68.88.88 – mail : contact@lechateaudebeaulieu.com
www.lechateaudebeaulieu.com